INTRODUCTION

Since 1996, the Delaware Criminal Justice Council has worked with the Wilmington Police Department on analyzing the shooting incidents in the city. This report continues the effort of the Delaware Criminal Justice Council to collect and present data on the shooting victims and suspects in the City of Wilmington.¹ The 2010 report continues to review the nature of shootings in Wilmington by looking at various demographics of known suspects and victims including criminal history, age, race and sex. This report includes a multi-year shooting chart (Appendix A).

Although this report focuses on the shootings that occurred in 2010, data will be presented from previous year's shooting reports when appropriate. The reader is referred to previous reports for more detail on shooting victims in Wilmington in previous years. All tables and data discussion is related to 2010 shootings unless otherwise noted.

The following information was collected for completion of this report:

1. Case status
2. Victim / suspect sex
3. Victim / suspect race
4. Victim / suspect age

METHODOLOGY

The data used for this report was obtained from the Wilmington Police Department and Delaware Criminal Justice Information System (DELJIS) criminal history searches on suspects and victims.

The analysis in this study, as with prior reports, is the result of taking information gathered from the crime reports for all of the 2010 complaints that reported a person being shot and placing them in a database. Incident information was obtained through Wilmington Police department and DELJIS searches. Criminal history was limited to State of Delaware records.

The nature of the data for this report requires some limitations on the analysis of and conclusions about the nature of shootings in Wilmington. In 2010 there were 125 shooting incidents. As of the date in which the information was obtained, 25 out of the 125 shooting incidents, or 20.0%, resulted in formal charges. The 125 shooting incidents resulted in 142 shooting victims. Out of the 125 shooting incidents, there were 103 suspects, of which 99 were identifiable by both sex and race and only 40 were further identifiable by age. Analysis of criminal history is grouped into the following categories: misdemeanor, felony, drug, and weapons arrests. Drug arrests include both felony and misdemeanor arrests for Title 16 offenses.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

In 2010, there were 125 shootings incidents in the City of Wilmington resulting in 142 shooting victims and 40 known suspects.²

For the 9 year period (1995-2004) the average percentage of juvenile suspects was 10.5%. This percentage changed to 26.5% in 2005, 22.8% in 2006, 22.8% in 2007, and 20% in 2008. In 2009 there was a significant decrease of the number of juvenile suspects, juveniles accounted for 13.8% of all identified shooting suspects. In 2010 there was a slight increase in the percentage of juvenile suspects. Juveniles accounted for 15.0% of all shooting suspects in 2010. When all 15 years (1995-2010) are averaged for percent of juvenile shooting suspects, the average is 14.6%. The number indicates that the percent trend in the increasing percentage of juvenile suspects has begun to decrease. The 2010 percentage is more in line with the 15 year average when compared to the higher percentages of the prior four year period (2005 – 2008).

For the 8 year period (1997-2005), the average number of annual shooting victims was 74.5. For the past five years (2006-2010), the average number of shooting victims has increased to 120.6. This signifies a 62.2% increase in the average number of shooting victims per year when compared to the earlier 9 year period.

For the third time this report has looks at age of first contact with the criminal justice system for both suspects and victims. This information reveals that 74.2% of the 142 shooting victims with criminal histories in Delaware were juveniles at the time of their first arrest in Delaware. Out of the 40 identified shooting suspects, 33 shooting suspects had a criminal history in Delaware, 90.9% were juveniles at the time of their first arrest.

In addition, this report shows the youngest shooting victim to be 8 years old and the youngest suspect to be 5 years old. This was the result of an accidental domestic shooting incident. The case was closed without arrest.

Analysis of the 103 shooting suspects revealed the following

- In the 125 shooting incidents, there were 103 suspects that were reported.
- Of the incidents where at least one suspect was identified by race and sex, there were a total of 99 suspects.
 - 91.9% of those identified by race and sex were Black males.
- Of the 103 shooting suspects, only 40 suspects were further identified by race, sex, and age
- Of the 40 suspects identified by race, sex, and age:
 - 12.5% were juveniles between 14 and 17 years old.
 - 42.5% were adults between 18 and 21 years old.
 - 22.5% were adults between 22 and 25 years old.
 - In total, 92.5% of the suspects were less than 30 years old.

2. Known suspects are defined as suspect that have been formally charge for the incident.

Analysis of the 139 shooting victims revealed the following:

- Of the 142 shooting victims in 2010, 23 or 16.2% died as a result of their injuries.
- Males accounted for 94.5% of the shooting victims.
- Black males accounted for 78.2% of the shooting victims.
- The single largest category by age group of victims (30.3%) were between the ages of 18-21 years old.

Analysis of the shooting incidents revealed the following:

- The month with the highest shootings occurred August of 2010 with 14 shootings.
- The day of the week with the most shooting victims was Saturday.
- The hours of the day with the most victims occurred 9:00PM-10:00PM.

Table Three is a summary of the case status for shooting incidents. Out of the 125 shooting incidents, 25 incidents resulted in arrests, 64 are pending cases, and 31 cases have been suspended. It should be noted that there is no data available for 2004 and 2005. The percentage of cases that were cleared by arrest of at least one suspect has remained relatively constant at approximately one-third of all shooting victims. We are not able to make valid multi-year comparisons for the Open, Pending, and Suspended categories as there was a change in definitions and counting practices between 2000 and 2001. Final clearance numbers are not available as these reported numbers represent a point in time and investigations are still on going at date of report production.
