Subj: Department of Corrections Population Patterns 2000 to June 2009

Attached are four graphs providing a summary of the Department of Correction Bureau of Prison's population based on the daily population reports for the period of January 2000 to June 2009. Also, on the second page of this report is a table that provides a detailed quarterly breakout of DOC facility types by offender status. Offender status types include offenders sentenced for Level V Prison (offender serving more than one year), Level V Jail (offenders serving one year or less), Level IV offenders, Level III offenders, and detainees.

Graph 1 shows that between January 2000 and June 2009 that the detention, Level V and Level IV facilities populations have decreased from about 7,250 to 6,750. The peak daily population during this period was September 2007 when the population surpassed 7,300.

Graph 2 provides a year-to-year overlay for the total DOC population. It shows that there was a long period of slow population growth between 2002 and 2005 when the population remained relatively stable, and in 2003, the population actually decreased. In the second half of 2005, a separation began and in 2006 and 2007 a period of accelerated growth became evident. In 2006 and 2007, the population peaked at about 7,250 and 7,375, respectively, in the fourth quarter of each year. Now, in 2009, the average population is closer to 6,800 and decreasing which is significantly lower than the past 4 years during the first quarter.

Graph 3 shows the same type of year-to-year overlay but for only the detention and Level V major institutions beds. This population, while smaller, shows a very similar pattern seen in Graph 2.

Graph 4 shows that the Level IV work releases and VOP Centers have remained tightly bunched until this year in which the population is at it's highest at 1,350. The Level IV facility population has increased steadily, noting that there are approximately 100 to 150 more individuals than there were last year at this time, the decrease in the overall Department of Corrections was in the major institutions.
